The map, titled "Streams of Emigration from England, 1620-1642" was produced circa 1921 and is from the book The Founding of New England by James Truslow Adams, page 120.

The Great Migration began in 1630 when 1000 English colonists crossed the North Atlantic Ocean to New England.

Five ships and 300 colonists led by Francis Higginson left for New England on May 1, 1629. The Winthrop Fleet left England on April 8, 1630 with 12 ships and over 700 people. This image titled "Arrival of the Winthrop's Ships in Boston Harbor" was created circa 1880 by William F. Halsall (1841-1919). The ships are just coming to anchor, with the flagship in the foreground. The flagship, named the Arbella after one of her passengers, Lady Arbella Johnson, weighed 350 tons and carried 23 cannon. The ship in the right background is the Jewel. The ship in the left background is the Talbot.

A commonwealth emphasizes that these political units have a "government based on the common consent of the people."

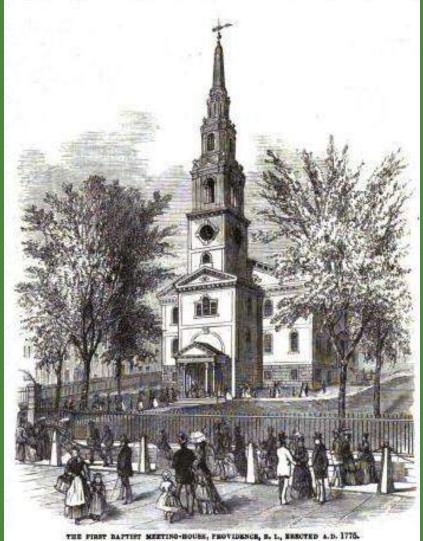

Commonwealths distinguished themselves from other earlier colonies whose status was obtained from the monarch of Great Britain. This image shows the seal of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The seal was adopted on June 4, 1885. In Latin, around the figure holding the bow is the following phrase: "By the sword we seek peace, but peace only under liberty." The Fundamental Orders of Connecticut contained a preamble and 11 orders or laws. This image is courtesy of connecticuthistory.org.

The Fundamental Orders of Connecticut provided the framework for the government of the colony of Connecticut.

The Fundamental Orders of Connecticut established some rights later contained in the United States Constitution, such as government is based on the rights of the individual, and the powers and limits of government. It also stated that all free men were able to elect their representatives and specified the use of secret, paper ballots. This mural, titled The Signing of the Fundamental Orders 1638-1639 hangs in the Connecticut Supreme Court Chamber. It was painted by Albert Herter in 1913, and is courtesy of the Connecticut State Library.
