COURTEOUS READER,

HIS is the twentieth Time of my addressing thee in this Manner, and I have reason to flatter myself my Labours have not been unacceptable to the Publick. I am particularly please to understand that my Predictions of the Weather give such general Satisfaction; and indeed, such Care is taken in the Calculations, on which those Predictions are founded, that I could almost venture to say, there's not a single One of them, promising Snow, Rain, Hail, Heat, Frost, Fog, Wind, or Thunder, but what comes to pass punctually and precisely on the very Day, in some Place or other on this little diminutive Globe of ours; (and when you consider the vast Distance of the Stars from whence we take our Aim, you must allow it no small Degree of Exactness to hit any Part of it.) I say on this Globe; for tho' in other Matters I confine the Usefulness of my Ephemeris to the Northern Constellations, yet in that important Matter of the Weather, which is of such general Concern, I would have it more extensively useful, and therefore take in both Hemispheres, and all Latitudes from Hadley's Bay to Cape Horn.

You will find this Almanack in my former Method, only conformable to the New-Style established by the ACT of Parliament, which I gave you in my last at length; the new ACT since made for Amendment of that first ACT, not affecting us in the least, being intended only to regulate some Corporation Matters in England, before unprovided for. I have only added a Column in the second Page of each Month, containing the Days of the Old Style opposite to their corresponding Days in the New, which may, in many Cases, be of Use; and to conclude (desiring you will excuse a short Preface, when it is to make Room for something better)

Tby Friend and Servt,

R. SAUNDERS.

H Y M N to the C R E A T O R , from Psalm CIV.

A W A K E, my Soul! with Joy thy God adore;
Declare his Greatnes; celebrate his Pow'r;
Who, cleath'd with Honour, and with Glory crown'd,
Shines forth, and cheers his Universe around.
Who with a radiant Veil of heavenly Light
Himself conceals from all created Sight.
Who rais'd the spacious Firmament on high,
And spread the azure Curtains of the Sky.
Whose awful Throne Heav'n's starry Arch sustains,
Whose Presence not Heav'n's vast Expanse restrains,
Whose Ways unsearchable no Eye can find,
The Clouds his Chariot, and his Wings the Wind.
Whom Hosts of mighty Angels own their Lord,
And flaming Seraphim fulfil his Word.
Whose Pow'r of old the solid Earth did found,
Self-pois'd, self-center'd, and with Strength girt round;
