When religious discord runs high in a State, it is a Sign that the Prince himself is somewhat intoxicated, and leans too much to one Party; or otherwise he would have Discretion and Influence enough to reconcile, or at least silence, both Parties. Lewis XIV. in that Stage of Life, when the Jargon of deifying Princes makes the deepest Impression, solicited a Bull at Rome to prevent a Schism in his Kingdom, and had like to have occasioned one by it. That Bull was the Constitution of

Run away from doctor! He has taken the plantation, in Hiram township, Philadelphia county, a Molatto slave, named Will, a son of a Negro father, and a white mother, about five feet eight inches high, of an open bold countenance, somewhat pitted with the small pox, speaks both English and Dutch, and is a ren sensible fellow. There was a great deal of boasting made that work'd by the day or month, called Thomas Stillwell, a tall smooth faced fair complexion'd fellow, with pale straight hair, and may be farther known by a fire not quite healed on one of his thumbs. He has been at sea, and pretends to be a sailor. The said Stillwell is supposed to counteract the escape of the Molatto, by assuming the character of his master, or some such false pretence.

Whoever apprehends said Molatto, either with or without Stillwell, and secures him in any goal, or brings him to Philadelphia, shall have Five Pounds reward, and reasonable charges, paid by his
