THE RESULT.

END OF THE GREAT NATIONAL CONTEST.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, OF ILLINOIS,
ELECTED PRESIDENT,

AND HANNIBAL HAMLIN, OF MAINE,
VICE PRESIDENT, OF THE

UNITED STATES.

Overwhelming Majorities in the Interior for the Republicans.

Anti-Republican Majority in the Next Congress.

The Political Aspect of the State Legislatures.

HOW WILL THEY MEET THE CRISIS?

IMPORTANT FROM SOUTH CAROLINA.

SCENES IN THE METROPOLIS, etc., etc., etc.

The election is over. The Metropolis of the Union did well. She gave nearly thirty thousand majority for the Union, but the return from the interior of the State came in so largely in favor of the republicans that the result is that

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, of Illinois, is elected President, and

HANNIBAL HAMLIN, of Maine,

Vice President, of the United States. Our returns indicate, however, that the next Congress will be in opposition to the republicans.

Our tables and figures this morning are of the highest importance to the politician, statesman, merchant and mechanic. We give the political classification not only of the new Congress, but also of the position of parties in the legislatures of the several States. This table is important now in the new aspect the election of Lincoln gives to the condition of the country.

mittee, and it is crowded with people, who are jubilant over the results of the day.

Their, the Douglas equal suffrage candidate in Worcester district, is beaten 500 majority by publican.

Nothing has created more interest in Boston to-day in the contest between Geo. Lutz, of the Boston Cons., and John Brochard, in which the former was also beaten.

10 towns, not including Boston, give Lincoln 61,200; against 15,725; Brockbridge 3,107. These totals count about half the State. Lincoln's plurality can hardly be less than 70,000.

Mr. Andrew is elected Governor by about the same.

The Legislature is largely republican.

ENTITLED TO VOTE ELECTORAL VOTES.

MONTVILLE, Nov. 6, 1863.

The return shows that Vermont has gone for Lincoln by 20,000 to 20,500 majority.

CONNECTICUT.

ENTITLED TO VOTE ELECTORAL VOTES.

HARTFORD, Nov. 6, 1863.

Mr. Lincoln has 275 majority and 1,248 plus. Six towns, including Hartford, show a republican gain over a swing of 100. Lincoln's majority in the State will be several thousand.

THE MIDDLE STATES.

NEW JERSEY.

ENTITLED TO VOTE ELECTORAL VOTES.

NEWARK, Nov. 6, 1863.

Governor Pennington is elected to Congress by a majority which varied entirely from 400 to 1,500.

PENNSYLVANIA.

ENTITLED TO VOTE ELECTORAL VOTES.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 6, 1863.

The returns coming in from all parts of the State indicate a republican gain everywhere over the vote for Grant, excepting in Philadelphia, for instance, going to the extent of one thousand.

The opposition to secessionists still stands at some.

All the interest in the city this evening is excited for New York, and the report just received that the Federal ticket has received only twenty eight thousand majority in the city, while the republican gains in the interior, are dismally few of the whole.

Returns from Virginia, showing that Bell is leading at that State, should add a heavy blow to the South, which is the outcome of the Unionists' votes.

In Philadelphia Lincoln will probably have a large plurality, but the returns have not come in yet.

A large number of voters left this morning for New York. Some Philadelphians, however, accompanied them to prevent fraudulent votes.

The following is the result in the city of Philadelphia as it stands now:

1st Ward—Lincoln over Reading..... 51

2d Ward—Lincoln over Douglass..... 350

3d Ward—Lincoln over Higginson..... 645

4th Ward—Lincoln over Bevington..... 1,005

These returns indicate Lincoln's plurality in the city, 5,000 or more.

Lincoln over Douglass..... 515

1st Ward—Lincoln over Douglass..... 515

2d Ward—Lincoln over Douglass..... 321

3d Ward—Lincoln over Douglass..... 645

4th Ward—Lincoln over Bevington..... 1,005

These returns indicate Lincoln's plurality in the city, 5,000 or more.

Soyer county gives Lincoln 650 majority.

Union county gives Lincoln 1,000 majority.

Minisink gives Lincoln 1,000 majority.

Duchesne gives Lincoln 1,000 majority.

Cherry county gives Lincoln 1,000 majority.

Westmoreland county gives Lincoln 200 majority.

Custer county gives Lincoln 700 majority.

DELAWARE.

ENTITLED TO VOTE ELECTORAL VOTES.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 6, 1863.

The Fifth ward gives 1 plurality to Lincoln. Fisher, 1.

MARYLAND.

ENTITLED TO VOTE ELECTORAL VOTES.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6, 1863.

The Union men claim the State by not less than 2,000.

Returns from the various counties show considerable gain for Bell, but not sufficient to overcome the early breakdowns mainly in the city. The result is uncertain.

Results from Allegany county indicate 800 for Bell over Rockbridge. A gain of near 1,000.

Brockbridge—Bell, Douglass, Lincoln.

about twenty-five per cent over the vote which O'Dwyer got. This figure would give about 37,000 majority to the Republicans.

A Voice—"We're not afraid of that."

Sgt. Draper—"No fear of it. That will do no harm." (Hh, hh.)

Mr. Draper then announced the following returns from the several districts of the Ninth ward:

| District | Rep. | Dem. |
|----------|------|------|
| First | 212 | 417 |
| Second | 250 | 216 |
| Third | 250 | 194 |
| Fourth | 211 | 184 |
| Fifth | 211 | 184 |

These figures did not appear to produce a very satisfactory impression, so far as the speaker was concerned, that all went well with the majority against him at the last election.

Here a message was received from the Eighteenth ward to the effect that the Ninth district had given 232 votes against 97 Lincoln, and the Fourteenth district 245 votes against 49 Lincoln. These figures were less cheering than the others and were received with some dependent numbers; but this feeling was of course shared by the speaker.

The returns in question gave the following totals in the First, Eleventh and Fifteenth wards:

| EQUILIBRIUM, FUSION, MAJORITY FOR Fusion. | | |
|---|-------|-------|
| First ward..... | 415 | 445 |
| Second ward..... | 250 | 230 |
| Third ward..... | 250 | 230 |
| Fourth ward..... | 211 | 184 |
| Fifth ward..... | 211 | 184 |
| Eleventh ward..... | 212 | 417 |
| Fifteenth ward..... | 1,733 | 2,652 |

Mr. Draper—In every ward here we find more than hold our own, as compared with the estimate published in the "Daily Graphic" 20,000 majority to the Fusionists. It is well known that the Fusionists in the city are in accordance with the calculation Abraham Lincoln, a gentleman here in this room, beyond all question, the President of the United States. (Lead cheers and cries of "Hail to you!"

Similar scenes, mixed up with remarks of a like character, took place all through the evening as fresh returns were brought in and our report left the rooms where the returns were being made. The number of Republicans present that the Union majority in the city would not exceed 25,000, and that the republican majority in the State would be at least 50,000.

A Voice—"The Fusionists had given 250,000 to Lincoln."

Mr. Draper here remarked that he only wanted to hear from one or two men places, and then they would speak. The remark elicited some laughter, and gave fresh courage to those who were still in doubt. The speaker was expressing that these samples were pretty fair, and that Lincoln was safe enough.

The next return was from the First district of the Twelfth ward, which had given 223 votes for Lincoln against 22 for Deacon, leaving Lincoln a majority of two. This was received with shouts of applause and clapping of hands.

The next returns received were from the Ninth district of the Fifteenth ward, which gave Lincoln 377 against 181 for Fusion. This was followed by the Second ward, with 200 to 140 for Fusion, and the Fourteenth district 245 votes against 49 Lincoln. These figures were less cheering than the others and were received with some dependent numbers; but this feeling was of course shared by the speaker.

The returns in question gave the following totals in the First, Eleventh and Fifteenth wards:

| THE CLODED HOURS, GAPS, SPANS AND CONTINUOUS LIFE. BY MYERS AND THE NURSES.—THE FINAL EDITION. | | |
|--|--|--|
| Old Germany Hall | in years gone by, | by the event of |
| of a great election, | where the sovereigns in their might have resorted at the | of the day to blow off their excesses of steam, as well |
| as to test the condition of the great public boiler by | which the engine of the republic has been | which were then held over to the expectation multitude, and such |

In reply to which the Captain and his mathematics behind him spent fifteen or twenty minutes in figuring up returns from the different districts, which were then referred to the expectant multitude, and such a display of figures as were never before drawn all at once.

The audience meanwhile cheered and clapped in regular fashion, the hall being almost silent to its sediment and then replacing to overflow, while sugar smoke, puffed from the lips of hundreds who for the occasion seemed transformed into so many pantomimic chimney-pieces, hung like a thick pale velvet multitude.

Silence being again restored, the Captain broke out again as follows—Boys, I've been abroad up to the mountains, and I can tell you, when I do come back, take my pipe, whiskey—mind—go. (Hh, hh!) Well, I will, but I tell you what sticks in my throat, and that is, owing to the delay of republican interests around the ballot box, we were not able to get in all the votes of our party, and that there are thousands in this city, and perhaps some in the hall—More good news! I have reliable information that Amos Burleigh, the right bower of the bloody Charles Sumner, is dead. (Applause.)

Capt. Draper—With a bit, a bit, a batch of champagne and a pair of hats on this occasion. If that news is true I'll give you my coat. (Laughter.)

A Voice—"A moment, gentlemen. Let us have some more returns."

A Voice—"Yes, indeed. Addressed Lincoln. (Laughter.)

Mr. Draper—"Oh, you get. (Laughs of laughter.) I have got a dispatch which I want to read to you all now."

A Voice—"Very well, Mr. Draper. (Applause.)

Mr. Draper—In a few moments, I will have a few words to say, but first I will read a speech by my father, Mr. O'Dwyer, on the subject of the election of 1860. (Applause.)
