

The Federal Government—Division of Power

The Constitution

All power found in the United States government comes from this document

Legislative—

Commonly called

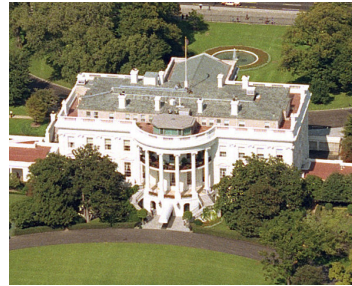

Main building is called:

Two houses of Congress are called

100 members/ 2 per state | 435 members by pop.

Executive—

Headed by

President's main offices are in this building:

Current President's name:

Current Vice-President's name:

Judicial—

Highest court is called the Supreme Court is located in this building:

of Justices on the Supreme Court:

Other United States courts include: